Kunchi is organic, locally grown and ethically produced as a cottage industry. The fresh Temu kunci medicinal ginger is freshly dug from the rich organic soils, and made immediately into a fresh raw juice. We recommend drinking within three to five days, to get the best of the flavours, however due to the natural preservative properties of the Kunchi, it should be fine for longer.

Wholesalers: we are happy to come and talk to you, bring samples, and tell you about this amazing new medicinal ginger that stops dengue, and is anti-aging, anti-cancer, antibacterial, anti-inflammatory, and more – a real superfood

Visit Kunchi Bali Farm – cottage industry with a small farmgate warung working with the farmers and villages around this sacred mountain in rural Bali. Take the time to tour the farm, trek the ancient pilgrims walk and lunch at Kunchi Bali Farm Warung Jalan Pura Pucak Tedung, Petang Kabupaten Badung, Bali 80353, Indonesia www.kunchi.co
